SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

In glancing through the annual report of the Alberta Department of Agriculture for 1953, a number of interesting figures are given, a few of which will be listed very briefly, for instance in the Rabies outbreak there were a total of 106 animals of various kinds officially diagnosed as Rabies at the Federal Veterinary research Laboratory at Lethbridge of which 10 were cattle, 5 hogs, 30 dogs, 18 coyotes, 23 fox, and the balance were made up of various animals from weasels to bears. The Federal Health of animals division vaccinated 14,000 dogs north of 55, there do not appear to be any figures available for the number of dogs vaccinated in the rest of the province.

There were over 200 people took the Pasteur treatment and no cases of the disease in humans developed.

Turning to T. B. restricted areas the whole of Alberta has been petitioned and gazetted as a T. B. Restricted area. A municipality or County is officially declared a restricted area when general testing commences, at which time all regulations come into effect, in 1953 testing commenced in four municipalities, namely Waterloo, Bright, Provost and L.L.D. No. 65, making a total of 33 in effect at the end of the year. Incidentally Bow Valley commenced in January of 1954. We do not anticipate that it will be any great length of time until our own area will be tested for T.B.

In 1953 there were 147,483 calves vaccinated for Brucellosis (Bangs disease) and there were 12 municipalities operating as Restricted Areas, namely Starland, Wainwright, Vermilion River, Minburn, Beaver, Strathcona, Camrose, Wetaskiwin and Mountain View. It is expected that Vulcan County and others will be in operation shortly.

It will be noted from the above figures that it should not be many years until the whole province of Alberta will be declared a restricted area for both T. B. and Brucellosis.

Present Policy Temporary

Wheat Board Gives Information On Future Grain Quota Policy

Resolutions passed at the recent farmers' protest meeting held in Vulcan were forwarded to the Canadian Wheat Board through the executive of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

The following information has been received from the Wheat Board in reply:

Starting the crop year 1954-55 the country elevator position is that elevators generally are well filled with grain therefore, in this coming crop year the quantity of grain which producers will be able to market once again depends upon the volume of domestic and export sales.

It is difficult to look 12 months ahead but we are inclined to feel that the demand for domestic grain and for grain in export markets will exceed the demand in the crop year 1953-54 and as our statement suggests, the outlook for producers' marketings in 1954-55 is somewhere in the neighborhood of 600 million bushels with some variation depending upon market developments.

At the present time there is an excellent demand for oats and barley and the stocks available in forward positions are not plentiful. In considering our quota policy we decided that it would be advisable to provide some incentive for the marketing of oats and barley and therefore we included a temporary provision for the marketing of up to 1,000 bushels of oats or barley or a combination of both these grains not to exceed 1,000 bushels.

In dealing with the question of minimum delivery quotas as set out in our statement we were searching for more equitable minimum delivery provisions for the present crop year and we felt that minimum quotas should recognize the monetary value of the various grains, therefore we instituted the unit basis.

We go on further to say that the initial quota outlined above when authorized will become part of the minimum quota, which the Board intends to establish for all producers as space permits. If we were to grant the whole of the intended minimum delivery quota at this time with only limited storage space available this would result in many producers having a less equitable opportunity of making delivery than will be the case under the above policy. You will note further that the balance of the intended minimum delivery quota for the season will be handled along similar lines to the above, after which the Board proposes to institute quotas based on specified acreage similar to those of the crop year 1953-54.

You will please note also that in the case of stations where no oats or barley are available for delivery at the present time and where space is available to take delivery of all or a portion of the initial quota in other grain, the Board will be prepared to consider applications, signed by all elevator agents at the point, for the establishment of the initial quota policy at an earlier date than is generally proposed.

We are now receiving some applications and the initial delivery quota of 100 units is being made effective at some points.

What I would like to emphasize is that the storage position in Canada is badly congested and that any quota policy instituted must be related to the availability of storage.

We will be keeping the matter constantly under review and as time goes on and we are able to increase shipments of grain we will be providing further delivery opportunities. There has been no decision made, however, with regard to the specified acre quota. This will depend entirely upon the movement of grain and the progress we are able to make in relieving the congested points.

Generally speaking, I think the reaction in the country is that the Board is trying to be fair with regard to the distribution of deliveries and the use of scarce elevator space. The present policy must be viewed as a temporary one to bridge over present difficulties and the position will be kept constantly under review. I would like to emphasize, however, that due to the demand for oats and barley the Board must see that quantities of these grains are made available at terminal points to meet such a demand. In other words, there are substantial stocks of wheat in all positions in Canada and we must meet the market demand for the grains required in volume. I would not like to leave the impression that there is no demand for wheat. Such is not the case. There are good sales being made at the present time but the difference between wheat and oats and barley is that the demand for oats and barley is substantial and the stocks moderate. We have a day to day demand for wheat but stocks of wheat are substantial in all positions.

Respecting the question of farmers who sold out and have large stocks of wheat on hand, as the initial delivery quota of 100 units becomes possible at the various delivery points, the man who has sold his farm will have the same delivery opportunity as the producer at the point. It is simply impossible to consider providing delivery opportunities beyond this point for producers who have sold their farms without seriously affecting the producer who is continuing to farm and wishes to deliver.

Arrangements have also been made to provide for the delivery of any oats or barley being carried by producers who have disposed of their farms.

EASY SAFETY

Long ago vaccination wiped out smallpox, as far as Canada is concerned. When all children are given this protection as a matter of course, a contagious disease has not much chance of ever again causing an epidemic. Similar immunization against diphtheria could make this equally dangerous disease just as obsolete as smallpox. The simple method of giving this protection is a matter for the local health clinic where it is free of charge, or it can be done by the family doctor.

Pioneer Celebrates 74th Birthday

MILLER WHITE

Miller White celebrated his 74th birthday on Sunday, Sept. 19 with all his family home except Leona, who was unable to come. Miller White is an oldtimer in the Vulcan district. He came to High River in 1906 from Cumberland, Iowa, and in 1907 he homesteaded 8 miles north and 1 1/2 miles east of Vulcan where he still resides on the homestead.

He was married in 1913 and to him was born one son, Arthur, who resides in Calgary and two daughters, Jessie and Leona. Mr. Miller is hale and hearty and does most of his own farm work. His friends and neighbors all sincerely wish him many more Happy Birthdays.

A Difficult Harvest

Light Rain and Snow Again Stops Harvesting

Following a weekend of clear, warm weather which allowed combining to get nicely underway, light rain and intermittent snow Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday again brought all harvesting operations to a halt.

The rain and snow brought lowered temperatures, with the mercury dropping to 25 above Tuesday night and no immediate promise of warmer weather.

Swathing has been pretty well completed in this district but combining is only 10 to 15 percent completed. Harvest is now about three weeks later than normal and a heavy snowfall might bring a repetition of the conditions of 1951, when a large percentage of the crop had to be left in the swath all winter.

Vulcan and several other county elevator points are now taking delivery of the 300 bushel initial wheat quota.

Committee Conveners Named

Home and School Assoc. Elect Officers for 1954-55

Mrs. S. W. Manning was elected president of the Vulcan Home and School Association at the first meeting of the season, held Sept. 21 in the lobby of the high school.

Mrs. H. F. Ulmer was elected vice-president and Miss Marian McKay was named secretary-treasurer.

Conveners named were Mrs. C. Hollister, hospitality and membership convener; Mrs. J. L. Richardson, lunch convener; Mrs. R. Graham, program convener; Mrs. L. Weatherburn, finance convener; Mrs. Houlton, convener of subscriptions for the Home & School paper.

The new officers were installed by Rev. J. S. Clarke.

It was decided that the matter of sending a delegate to the Banff Workshop Oct. 18-21 would be left in the hands of the executive.

Mrs. Manning asked those present to write on slips of paper the types of program which they preferred at Home & School meetings.

Frank Burchak asked parents not to drive cars into the schoolyard when vans are loading or unloading. He also asked parents to inform teachers if children, especially Grade ones, are not going home in the van.

It was decided that the parent attendance prize would be continued.

The first meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, for the new season was held one week later than scheduled, on Wednesday, Sept. 22, with a very good attendance. Mrs. Hunter, the president was in the chair and opened the meeting with the new ritual.

Many busy matters were dealt with and much correspondence read. Donations of $100 to the Memorial Swimming Pool, and the usual quarterly donation of $30 to the Veterans' Hospital Fund were made.

One application for membership was received and favorably voted on by the members. The secretary was instructed to notify the candidate to be present at the next meeting for initiation.

Plans were made for the Poppy Campaign and committees named. Regular committees were also appointed for the next three months.

At the conclusion of the business session a social hour was enjoyed and a dainty lunch served by a committee.

president pins to Mrs. E. Roebuck and Mrs. Douglas Smith, for Mr. Smith who was unable to be present at the meeting.

Mrs. Manning presented Joyce Jordan with the Grade nine scholarship of $25.

E. G. Hansell showed two films, one on the opening of Parliament and the other of scenes outside the Parliament Buildings.

Miss McKarp's grade 8 room and Mrs. Burchak's grade 5 room tied for parent attendance prize.

Farm Union Asks For Wheat Action

On September 15th, a Farm Union delegation met the Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, at Saskatoon. The delegation was headed by J. L. Phelps, Chairman of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, and Henry Young, President of the F.U.A.

At this meeting the need for some system of advances to farmers against grain stored on farms was impressed very strongly upon Mr. Howe. It was pointed out that unless grain producers can be financed until the main part of the crop is harvested, many will have great difficulty in carrying on and many businesses dependent on farm trade will face a crisis.

Some other points on which the farm unions delegation asked for action were:

1. Immediate settlement of final payments on the 1954-oats and barley pool.
  2. An interim payment on 1953 wheat at an early date.
  3. Establishment of a Fairly price on all wheat consumed in Canada.
- Full consideration on all these and other matters was promised by Mr. Howe.

It costs four times as much to build a house in Canada as it does in Germany.

May Gravel Streets Next Year

An indication that the town council is planning an extensive street graveling program for next year was given at a special council meeting held recently, when it was decided that concrete street crossings would be eliminated from the town's sidewalk building program and that the money thus saved would go into a fund to provide for the proper graveling of all streets next year. Meanwhile, street crossings will be gravelled immediately to provide sure footing for pedestrians.

This measure is in line with that being adopted by other towns, which have found that the expensive concrete crossings become covered with mud anyway and make it difficult to grade streets properly.

The meeting also authorized the enlarging of the back door of the skating rink, the labor to be provided by the Lions Club and supervised by the town.

Tops Graduating Class at Winnipeg

DONALD ROEBUCK

Donald Alvin Roebuck, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roebuck of Vulcan, received his air navigator's wings at a graduation ceremony held at No. 2 Air Navigation School, Winnipeg, on Aug. 27 and has been commissioned as a Pilot Officer in the RCAF. He will now take further training at Toronto and North Bay, Ont.

The young navigation officer graduated at the top of his class with an average mark of 82 at the completion of the eight-months course. He enlisted in the RCAF last year following his graduation from Grade 12 at the Vulcan High School.

It is interesting to note that the commanding officer at the RCAF Station, Winnipeg, is Wing Commander Fred Craig, who is also a graduate of Vulcan High School and whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Craig still live here.

Town of Vulcan Sued For Damages

A statement of claim has been issued against the Town of Vulcan by a Lethbridge law firm on behalf of C. R. Robson, Vulcan theatre owner, asking for damages and costs as a result of the Town's alleged refusal to carry out the terms of an agreement whereby, it is claimed, the Council of the Town of Vulcan agreed to accept the sum of $1,000 as the purchase price of a certain area of land in the south-west, part of the Town, upon which the claimant intended to erect a drive-in theatre. The agreement was subject to the approval of the Town Planning Board.

The Town of Vulcan later served notice upon the plaintiff that it would not sell or transfer the land and returned to the plaintiff his cheque for $1,000.

The plaintiff asks for damages in the amount of $10,000 to cover loss of business for the year 1954 and for depreciation on equipment purchased for the proposed outdoor theatre, as well as for performance of the agreement by the Town.

The Town's statement of defence is now being prepared.

Activities At Church of Christ

Vulcan Kindergarten has entered into the second week of activities. Twenty-one children make up the full enrolment. This kindergarten meets four days a week at the Church of Christ annex.

The Story Hour Club and the T.S.C.S. Club got underway at the Church of Christ last week under the leadership of Anne Chapman. Besides the regular club activities the children in both groups are learning to make reed baskets.

A new group was formed at the Church of Christ, Thursday evening, Sept. 23 for girls of grades 6 to 8. An election of officers was held. Louise Lungren is president; Sherry Haydamack, vice-president; Kathleen Haverly, Secretary; Delores Johnson, Treasurer and Helen Haverly, social chairman. The girls will be naming their group in the near future. Anne Chapman is director.

Irish Nurse Weds RCAF Sergeant

A wedding was solemnized recently in St. Andrews' Church, Vulcan, when Kathleen Rebecca Spence, RN, of Pettigo, North Ireland, was united in marriage to Sergeant John Lagace, RCAF, of Quebec City, Que. Rev. Father Connelly performed the service and the bride was given in marriage by Mr. W. Hogg.

For her wedding the bride wore a frock of white glazed organza sprinkled with pink flowers and silver-grey leaves. The gown, which was waist-length, featured a shawl collar, cap sleeves and full skirt. She wore a white hat with silver veil, long white nylon gloves and silver accessories. She carried a white prayer book.

Matron-of-honor, Mrs. Herma Koch, wore a navy taffetta gown with pink cloche hat and corsage of pink roses. Herbert Koch attended the groom.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held in the church hall for 40 guests. Father Connelly proposed the toast to the bride. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with pink roses and white tapers.

The couple left by motor for a honeymoon in Quebec. The groom is stationed at the Vulcan airport and prior to her wedding the bride was on the staff of the Vulcan Municipal Hospital. She arrived from Ireland a year and half ago.

For these experiments the average date of starting to work the fallow was May 18th for the good fallow and June 29th for the poor fallow. After the first operation, weed growth was controlled for the remainder of the season. In all cases the poor fallow was very weedy when the first operation was performed and many of these weeds had produced viable seeds. On the good fallow, however, weeds were small at the time of the first operation and no seed formation had occurred.

On the good fallow an average of 3 1/2 operations were performed during the summer compared to 2 1/2 for the poor fallow. The total cost of these field operations which include gas, oil, grease, labour, depreciation, repairs and interest on machinery, was determined. The average figures showed that the cost was $1.95 per acre for the good fallow compared to $1.34 for the poor fallow, a difference of $0.61 per acre.

These summerfallows were seeded to wheat the following year. In many cases the wheat on the poor fallow became quite weedy, but the wheat on good fallow was generally free of weed growth. The average yields showed that the good fallow produced 4.9 bushels more per acre than the poor fallow. This would be equivalent to an additional gross income of $7.35 per acre at present prices for an additional expenditure of $0.61 per acre.

The results of these experiments indicate that good fallow practices pay large dividends even during years of favorable rainfall.

LETHBRIDGE EXPERIMENTAL STATION SAYS:

Fall cultivation is a worthwhile practice from the standpoint of weed control and moisture conservation. The use of sub-surface cultivators has given the best results, with the operation being done as soon as possible after the crop has been removed. The cultivated soil is easily worked the following spring in preparation for seeding a stubbled-in crop or for summer-fallowing

These New Fabrics

Today, we hear so much about the "Miracle" fabrics—that is the new synthesized textile fibers—Nylon, Dynel, Acrilan, Orlon, Dacron and others. We are told they wash beautifully, dry "in a flash" and require no ironing. Nevertheless, I think we should understand that to give the best service these fibers should be treated with some care. All fabric constructions made from these fibers don't have the same degree of washability—just as with cotton, some are of less sturdy construction than others and must be handled more carefully.

These synthesized textile fibers absorb much less moisture than do cotton, rayon, wool or acetate. Therefore stains carried into the fabric from water solutions won't penetrate deeply into the fiber. The cleansing then is actually just a matter of washing the dirt off the surface. In the warm summer weather we may find this lack of absorbency a disadvantage because such fabrics won't absorb perspiration, hence they have very little cooling effect. So for summer wear don't forget that cotton seersucker and "textured" rayon are easy to wash, require no ironing and are very absorbent as well.

Many of our synthetic fibers are blended with other fibers—the fabric resulting should be treated as one would handle the most delicate fibre present. Therefore, if it is a blend of Dacron and wool—you'll be wise to treat it as if it were wool.

Remember, too, that the dye-stuff used in the fabric may not be washable under the same conditions which the textile fiber can be safely cleansed. Read labels carefully and proceed with caution. Beware of suits and coats of synthetics which are advertised as entirely washable—the pocket material, the interlining, the lining, the shoulder pads must be washable and colorfast too before you can do a successful job of home laundering.

Always wash white synthetics apart from colored articles—they have a definite tendency to pick up color. Remove food stains (especially grease) from such garments before they are washed—washing seems to set this type of stain on synthetic fibers.

Use a good neutral soap or synthetic detergent in washing these fibers—soap is best for white because it gives greater freedom from discoloration.

Wash very fragile garments by hand.

Use wash water of a fairly low temperature—this reduces the danger of heat sealing wrinkles in the fabric or of removing permanent pleats and various other surface effects.

Dacron and Orlon blouses and shirts tend to pick up dirt rather permanently around the neckbands and sleeve cuffs. Rub these areas with a soft brush using a good wetting agent such as synthetic detergent or hair shampoo.

Often such garments will look better if just touched up a bit with the iron—remember always to use a relatively cool iron because all these synthesized fibers are softened by heat.

You might find it necessary to bleach white synthetic fabrics. A mild chlorine bleach (dilute solution) can be used on white Dacron, Orlon, Dynel and Acrilan if the fibers are not mixed with others that might be yellowed by chlorine. Peroxide is a preferred bleach for white nylon—some specific Nylon bleaches are successful too.

Practice good buymanship whether buying natural or synthetic fiber. Consider — Color fastness; Shrinkage Control; Fabric construction; Garment construction. And keep asking for informative labels.

Carmangay

The first meeting of the Junior Student's Union was held on Sept. 3 at which officers were elected for the coming year. These were: President, Glenda Moore; Vice-president, Marilyn Smith; Secretary, Betty Akitt; Treasurer, Eya May Burwash; Social Convener, Loree Hauser; Boy's Sport Convener, Errol Smith; Girl's Sport Convener, Jeannette Anderson; Grade 8 Class Convener, Duane Soderquist; Grade 7 Class Convener, Bruce Smith; Chief Room Monitor, Harold Hubka; Press Representative, Carol McGinnis.

The Ladies Altar Society held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Szekely with ten members and three visitors present. The Roll Call was answered with 'A History of my Birthstone'. Plans were made to hold a bake sale in the near future. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elaine Parker at Peacock Sliding on Oct. 27 and the Roll Call will be an article of canned goods for the Lambe Home at Midnapore.

An oldtimer of the Travers district, Mrs. Carrie Margaret Hagen died on Saturday in the Carmangay Hospital at the age of 89. She had been confined to hospital since breaking her hip in July. She was a member of the Lutheran Church. Born in Norway, she came to Canada in 1914 and had lived in the Travers district for the past 25 years. Survivors include four sons, Carl of Carmangay, Elmer of Travers, Olaf of Calgary and John of Spokane, Wash.; six daughters, Mrs. Ester Odgaard of Lethbridge, Mrs. Jennie Orsten of Vauxhall, Mrs. Agnes Hanson of Enchant, Mrs. Nora Odgaard and Mrs. Annie Cleaver of Calgary and Mrs. Nettie Johnson of Spokane; 37 grandchildren, 79 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held in Enchant on Thursday at the Evangelical Free Church at 2 p.m. with interment in the Enchant cemetery. Christensen Bros. of Lethbridge are in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardeau Getts of Kelowna are spending a few days here. Former residents of Carmangay, Mr. Getts still has farming interests here and returns every year or two to inspect them. Two minor farm accidents, which might have resulted more seriously, occurred last week. A spark from a welding torch caused a battery, which Jervis Brownell was filling, to explode and some of the acid struck his eye, but no serious harm was suffered. Gilbert McGinnis was clearing the pick up when he sliced the fleshy end off one of his fingers on a sharp piece of tin. Though painful, the injury was not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sparks and family of Waterton spent the week end with relatives.

Miss Shirley Service was matron of honor to Miss Margaret Vrabel at the Vrabel-Wensveen wedding which took place in Lethbridge on Sept. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ewing and family of Lethbridge were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewing. Floyd Boner of the Hi-Way Service is constructing a new garage to house the school vans and hopes to have it ready for use before the cold weather sets in.

Phil Low, a former owner of the Grange Hotel, spent a few days here last week. He now resides in Calgary.

The U.G.G. Construction crew have completed the new elevator here and it is now receiving Durum wheat. This elevator, with a capacity of 70,000 bushels towers over the older elevators and looks very smart with its silver paint and its large bright red lettering, which can be read for a long distance.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy, enroute to their home in Edmonton from a trip to the States, called at Carmangay on Sunday. Some of the old timers will remember Mrs. Purdy as Lorraine Lamb (she said "They used to call me Mugsy") who, with her family, lived here as a child. En route home she asked her husband to drive through Carmangay so that she could see the old town. She found it very much changed, so many of the homes she knew having been moved and many other new ones built. She asked about many people she remembered, some of whom are still living here.

Sid Thompson, Walt Neilson and Gerald Miller were among those attending the meeting of York Lodge No. 119, A.F. & A.M. in Lethbridge on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davies of Calgary were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Church. Mr. and Mrs. J. Davies, who had been visiting here for the past ten days, accompanied them back home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the Doctor and nurses for the kindness and care given to Mrs. Annie Roemmele while in hospital. We also wish to sincerely thank those who sent flowers, telegrams, cards of sympathy, or helped in any way, during our recent bereavement.

—The Roemmele Family.

DON'T THRESH TOUGH
AND DAMP GRAIN

The Canadian Wheat Board to day issued a warning to grain producers throughout the Prairie Provinces against threshing or combining tough or damp grain. With only limited country elevator and terminal space available, and with the prospect of congested storage facilities for some time to come, the Board stated that it would be impossible to handle tough and damp grain in any volume. To the extent that producers do harvest out-of-condition grain they must accept the responsibility of storing such grain on their farms.

Elevator agents throughout the West understand the problem that will be created if producers thresh or combine tough and damp grain. Country and terminal elevator space is simply not available to handle tough and damp grain as it would be handled under normal circumstances. Elevator agents can assist the Board and their own companies by advising producers accepting responsibility for the storage of threshed tough and damp grain on their farms.

Canada Still Best,
Says Sicks' Official

"I am more convinced than ever that Canada is the greatest place on earth to live," commented Thomas Dancer, general manager of Sicks' Breweries Limited, on his recent return from three months' visit to Great Britain, the continent and the Far East. He was accompanied on the tour by Mrs. Dancer.

One thing that impressed him in Britain, and to a degree on the continent, was the absence of war fears. England had made a remarkable recovery from the last war, he continued, with the scars almost gone. There was very little unemployment—in fact a shortage of labor in many lines—stores and factories were busy and everyone seemed to have money to spend.

"Rationing of food and clothing is finished," he commented, "and coal is the only item still on the ration list. Similar conditions prevail on the continent. Everywhere people seemed to be tired of the ravages of war and are trying to return to living a normal life."

There was, however, a definite threat of war in the Holy Land, Mr. Dancer believed, in addition to widespread poverty and sickness. "The relations between Jordan and Israel are not friendly, and trouble between the two countries could flare up at any time," he warned.

Canadian and American breweries receive a high rating on the other side of the Atlantic, he said. He was a little disappointed in English ale. "Too weak and too warm," was his comment, adding that the weakness was doubtless a carryover from wartime conditions.

Throughout England and the continent, beer and wine could be purchased readily, he noted. At the same time there was very little drunkenness.

THOMAS DANCER
... Canada still best.

Observe FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

OCTOBER 3 TO 9

and prevent fires EVERY WEEK of the year!

Next week, special work will be undertaken by the Provincial Fire Commissioner and by all Fire Departments throughout Alberta to renew preparedness against loss of life and material resources from the ravages of fire.

As a service to your community, firemen are in search of these killers. Last year 54 people died in Alberta from fire. Most lives sacrificed to fire are traced to these dangerous conditions.

GUARD AGAINST THESE KILLERS

- Kerosene or gasoline misused to light fires.
- Gasoline handled in open containers or glass containers.
- Home dry cleaning with gasoline and flammable solvents.
- Careless parents leaving children alone at home.
- Careless smoking habits — smoking in bed.
- Overheated stoves and smoke pipes in dwellings.
- Allowing rubbish to pile up in basement or attic.
- Matches in hands of small children.

Treat Cattle for Lice During Fall
According to R. H. Painter, Livestock Insect Liaison Officer at Lethbridge, lice are without a doubt, the second most important livestock pest, being second only to the warble fly. According to work that has been done during the past years it is known that 90 percent of Alberta cattle are lousy to a greater or lesser degree.

The most satisfactory control measure that can be used at the present time is to spray during the fall, any time from September on until the advent of cold weather. Spraying should be done using a high pressure, similar to spraying for warbles. For the job to be effective it is necessary to spray twice at 14 to 18 day intervals, and care must be taken to see that the animal is thoroughly sprayed. In order to get at the hard-to-get-at places such as the flank and along the brisket a three-nozzle gun with a 4 foot shaft, known as a weed spray gun or a fog gun is of considerable help. This particular gun should be equipped with discs having 1/64 inch apertures. When using it care should be taken to see that the animals are thoroughly covered.

There are several chemicals that are effective for louse control, among these are Rotenone, Pyrethrum, Methoxychlor, DDT, Lindane, Chlordane and Toxaphene. The chemical to use depends on whether dairy cattle or beef cattle are to be treated. Some of the above mentioned products are stored in the body fat, and for this reason are prohibited for use on dairy cattle, and they are chlordane, Lindane, DDT, Toxaphene or any other chemicals belonging to the chlorinated hydrocarbon group. Young calves should not be sprayed with Lindane, Chlordane or Toxaphene. These three chemicals should not be used on any animals if they are to be slaughtered within a month after the material is applied. The Rotenone compounds, Methoxychlor and the Pyrethrum may be used on dairy or beef cattle, and leave no residues or serious after effects.

Fall treatment is easier and much more effective than attempting to treat during the winter, when the lice population may become very heavy. Dusting an animal requires more time than spraying, and it is almost impossible to do a thorough job, especially where there is any number of animals involved.

The railway caboose you see on the tag end of all Canadian freight trains costs closed to $20,000 to build.
